

FOR THE JOY OF LEARNING

CULTIVATING ENGAGEMENT IN YOUR STUDENTS

May 28 – June 28, 2019

Designed for all grades (K-12)
and disciplines

Registration is capped at 25 teachers. Later registrants will be waitlisted.

Course fee: $150

This summer experience is an initiative of W&M Teachers, our program designed to support teachers at every stage of their careers. Learn more:

education.wm.edu/wm-teachers

William & Mary
School of Education

Summer 2019 Online Professional Development Course for K-12 Teachers

For the Joy of Learning: Cultivating Engagement in Your Students is a five-week online course for practicing K-12 teachers. The course will be facilitated by Dr. Denise Johnson, associate dean of teacher education (and former elementary teacher and reading specialist), and Dr. April Lawrence, associate director of eLearning (and former high school English teacher and Lead Teacher).

In this 5-week asynchronous online course, we will explore evidence-based classroom practices that you can begin employing in the next academic year to cultivate student engagement in your classes. Teachers can expect to spend 4-6 flexible hours online each week to complete this course experience. Activities will include readings, asynchronous discussions, and resource explorations.

Earn recertification points

Teachers who complete the course will receive a certificate indicating they have completed 30 hours of professional learning at William & Mary which they may apply toward recertification points.

REGISTER: education.wm.edu/summer-PD